

Application for Currier Guild of Volunteers

The Currier is now accepting applications for new volunteers. The Currier Museum of Art Guild of Volunteers was organized in 1982. It is group of individuals who are members of the Museum and contribute their time and talents to supporting the Museum's activities including: the museum shop, library, tours, art-making and family activities, public programs and other special projects.

Currier volunteers learn new skills and have the chance to use or refine established ones. As a volunteer, you'll share your knowledge and enthusiasm with museum visitors and provide an invaluable service to the community. Volunteers enjoy programs and events that are planned especially for Guild members. Museum staff and Guild members provide training for all new volunteers and ongoing learning opportunities throughout the year.

In addition to completing this application and submitting a resume, a short interview will be required. All volunteers participate in a Guild orientation that provides insight into the opportunities available for volunteers and identifies the responsibilities. All volunteers are subject to a background check before they can start, and are expected to volunteer at least 50 hours of time per year in a combination of direct service & training. Those not already a member of the Currier Museum of Art, are expected to become a member within six months from the start of their service.
