

CURRIER MUSEUM of ART

Welcome to currier.org. We have made every effort to design our website to be useful, informative, honest, and fun. Hopefully we've accomplished that – please let us know if you'd like to see improvements that would make it even better. Send suggestions to WebMaster@currier.org. Thanks again for visiting!

Privacy Policy and Terms of Use

Privacy Policy

The Currier Museum of Art is committed to protecting the privacy of all of its guests. We do not collect personal information about individuals, including their contact information, unless users knowingly provide it. We believe that maintaining privacy on the web is important, so this policy describes the types of information we collect and how we use it.

All credit card information submitted to this site is encrypted using Secure Sockets Layer (SSL) software, which is the industry standard for information security, so that information cannot be read as it travels over the internet. Credit card information is not stored permanently on the web server.

Information you provide

When you purchase a membership, place an order, register for a class, or make a donation, we will ask you for the information needed to process that transaction. We will also ask for personal information when you register for an event, sign up for our email list, or complete an online form. We will not share your personal information with a third party. We may use this information to inform you about museum activities, programs, and special events that may interest you. You may opt-out of having your information used for these purposes, or you may update your contact information at any time, by clicking the link at the bottom of any e-mail received or contacting WebMaster@currier.org.

We may compile statistics about our visitors, customers, sales, or related data, but these statistics will not include any personal identifying information.

Children 12 and under

The museum does not solicit personal information from children 12 years of age and under. Children should always ask parents/guardians for permission before providing personal information on any website.

Links to other sites

The museum's site may contain links to the sites of our partners or other third parties. In many cases, these links represent cooperative projects. Although every effort is made to ensure that such referrals are to reputable and relevant sources, the museum does not control the content that appear on other sites. These sites may have their own privacy policies. The museum encourages visitors to review the privacy policies of any sites they visit to ensure their personal information is being protected.

Cookies

The museum's website uses cookies to distinguish you from other users, provide a better experience as you browse, and improve our site's performance and usefulness. By continuing to browse the site, you are agreeing to our use of cookies.

A cookie is a small data file that websites can place on your hard drive when you visit. A cookie file can contain information such as a user ID that tracks the pages you've visited within that site. The cookies on this site are primarily used to recognize that a user has visited the site previously and to track user traffic patterns. Third parties, including Facebook, may use cookies, web beacons, and other storage technologies to collect or receive information from our site and elsewhere on the internet, and use that information to provide measurement services and target ads.

If you prefer not to receive cookies through our site, you can set your browser to warn you before accepting cookies and refuse the cookie when your browser alerts you to its presence. You also can refuse all cookies by turning them off in your browser. You do not need to have cookies turned on to use any pages within our site.

Terms of Use

Content

The Currier Museum of Art supports Fair Use of all of its content. All we ask is that you agree to abide by the following terms and conditions. By using our website you automatically agree to them. If you don't agree, please do not use this website.

Use of our online materials

The text, images, and data, including without limitation audio and video clips, software, documentation, and other information contained in the files on this site are either: (1) images of works from museum's collection and elsewhere that we believe are in the Public Domain, which are made available without restriction; or (2) content protected by copyright.

Public domain

The museum provides images of works in the public domain (including high resolution images) free of charge and for use without restriction.

Protected content

Protected Content is made available for use only for limited non-commercial personal use. Users must cite the author/artist of the Protected Content, and the citation should include the URL "currier.org" in addition to the copyright notices provided with the Protected Content. In granting this limited permission, however, the Currier Museum of Art does not warrant that use of Protected Content will not infringe the rights of third parties. Copyright and other proprietary rights may be held by individuals and/or entities other than the museum.

Submitting your material to us

All comments, ideas, images, or other information that you send to us by email or through this website becomes our property. That means that we don't have to treat any such submission as confidential. You can't sue us for using ideas you submit. If we use them, or anything like them, we don't have to pay you or anyone else for them. We can use them for any purpose we deem appropriate.

You acknowledge that you are responsible for any submission you make. This means that you (and not we) have full responsibility for the submission, including its legality, reliability, appropriateness, originality, and copyright.

Disclaimer of liability

The museum shall not be responsible for and disclaims all liability for any loss, liability, damage (whether direct, indirect or consequential), personal injury or expense of any nature which may be suffered by you or any third party (including your company), as a result of or which may be attributable to your use of the website. Use of and browsing in the website are at your risk.

While the museum uses reasonable efforts to include accurate and up-to-date information in this website, we make no representations or warranties as to its accuracy. The museum assumes no liability or responsibility for any errors or omissions in the content of the website.

Jurisdiction

This Privacy Policy and Terms of Use shall be governed and construed in accordance with the laws of the State of New Hampshire. Any dispute arising out of, in connection with, or related to this policy, your visit to the website, or to any product or service sold or distributed in connection with the website, shall be brought in any Federal or State court located in the State of New Hampshire. The parties hereby waive any objection that they may have to personal jurisdiction in these courts.

Revisions

In response to changes in the law, policy or other factors, we may revise our Privacy Policy and Terms of Use at any time. You agree to be bound by this Privacy Policy and Terms of Use and any modifications to its by your continued use of the website. We encourage you to periodically visit this page to review our most current policy.
