

Drawing and Painting on the Coast

These items can be found at Blick.com or any other art supply store. These are recommended materials if you have something similar, please feel free to substitute.

This class students can use the paint of their choice; we will cover the technical concerns of all media. You may work with watercolor or gouache on paper, acrylic on canvas or paper as well as oil on canvas. The list provided here is for watercolor, provided as a starting off place. Working directly from the sea, students are gently guided through the art of painting and drawing at seaside! A morning drawing, and an afternoon painting with dual demonstrations, and a warm embrace of the waves have students of all levels immersing into deeper seeing and convincing works of art! In this one-of-a-kind experience, students work with the artist couple Rachael and John David O'Shaughnessy, receiving nurturing individualized feedback, and feeling the charge of the salt air at this historic Maine cove. The students will learn to handle their materials, set up, and complete their own energized work on site! Connecting light quality, water reflections, and site conditions to color, and composition.
